Explosive Issues Heat Up Congress

President's 'Liberal' Message Causes Stir in Capital — So Do Tax Cut Prospects, Politics, Unemployment Benefits And Atomic Bomb — Pearl Harbor Probe Comes In For Attention as Battle Lines Take Form

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Congress got hotter today. Politics rushed back. Predictions of tax cuts buzzed around. There was even a shot of energy from the atomic bomb.

President Truman's message caused a lot of the heat. So did the coming investigation of Pearl Harbor.

That investigation now is certain to be held. The President swung behind it yesterday and the Senate unanimously voted for it. The House will vote for it, too, but House Republicans today were demanding equal membership with Democrats on the investigating committee.

Some Republicans were saying Mr. Truman's big message looked like a campaign document for next year's elections. They called it "the same old New Deal."

Liberal Trend

Most congressmen felt Mr. Truman had identified himself with the so-called Liberal wing of the Democratic party instead of the Conservatives.

Tax talk received a shot in the arm from the president's suggestion for "limited" reductions in 1946.

Sen. Walter George, of Georgia, most influential tax man in the Senate, said he believes the president was talking about tax cuts for individuals as well as corporations. Sen. George predicted five billion dollars would be whacked off federal taxes next year—both business and personal taxes.

Rep. Robert Doughton, of North Carolina, the tax leader of the House, said his ways and means committee will start work on a tax-cutting bill as soon as it gets rid of the unemployment compensation bill.

The unemployment measure in its present form seemed near death today. There was not only the opposition of important congressmen. There was also the fact that too many states were interpreting their laws as being in conflict with the proposal.

The bill is one of President Truman's "must" proposals for the transition to peace. It would provide federal cash to add to the payments which state governments make to their jobless citizens.

It also would extend the jobless-pay system to federal employees and maritime workers. (Congress might keep part of that.)

Atomic Bomb Echoes
Here's how the atomic bomb entered into congressional doings: It changed the whole picture of scientific research, and gave a sudden shove to all proposals for federal activity in that field. Several congressmen have proposed a national research agency, and so did President Truman in his message. Two Senate committees will hear testimony, starting about October 1.

Two committee meetings today were important:

1. The Senate banking committee met behind closed doors to discuss the so-called "full employment bill." Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) was offering a series of amendments. He approves of planning for jobs—as the bill provides—but says he wants to eliminate certain "theories" about government spending.

2. The Senate judiciary committee met to hear Budget Director Harold D. Smith argue for giving the president broad authority to streamline the government.

Republicans noted a left of center under tone quickly in their appraisal of the printed message. It looked to them like a campaign (Please Turn to Page Two)

Combat Fatigue Claims Noted Task Force Commander

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 7.—

(AP)—The stout fighting heart which carried slender, greying John Sidney McCain through the navy's strenuous flying course at 52 years of age and to smashing victories over the Japanese, gave out last night—of sheer exhaustion from combat duty.

A physician said the vice-admiral, 61-year old commander of famous Carrier Task Force 38, was exhausted from three months of almost continuous raids, largely against the Japanese.

McCain lived just long enough to see victory accomplished. He arrived home Wednesday after (Please Turn to Page Two)

Americans Give $100,443 To Armless, Legless GI

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Pfc. Jimmy Wilson, the young GI who lost both arms and both legs in a plane crash, sat dazed and silent when he learned admiral Americans contributed $100,443 to guarantee his future.

He remained motionless in his wheelchair unable to speak. The stumps of his hands twitched as he lit a cigarette with artificial limbs.

"I still can't believe it," the Stark, Fla., soldier said. "I reckon a fellow never finds out how wonderful people are until something like this happens."

The fund, raised through voluntary contributions from coast to coast by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities, Inc., will be temporarily placed in government securities until a suitable trust can be arranged to guarantee Jimmy a steady life income.

'PLENTY' ABOUT TORTURE BY JAPS IS PROMISED BY GEN. WAINWRIGHT LATER

By KENNETH L. DIXON

HONOLULU, Sept. 7.—(AP)—

Whatever General Wainwright has to say about his physical beatings by the Japanese will have to be said officially to the War Department and the people back home, the hero of Corregidor said here.

Wearing the four stars of his new full generalcy on a new shirt whose collar was far too big for his thin neck, Haggard and his face deeply lined, he said Maj. Gen. Albert N. Jones "shouldn't have talked about that."

"I'll have plenty to say on that subject when I get to Washington—officially, I mean."

Even that came at the end of a press conference at which he reminded reporters he had been deafened by artillery fire and said questioning probably would be futile.

Aerial Searchers Report Airplane Which Had 22 Aboard a 'Complete Wreck' in Dense Swamp East of Florence, S. C., On Route from New York to Miami, Florida

SUMTER, S. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Shaw Field Army Air Base reported today the wreckage of a plane, believed to be a missing Eastern Air Liner with 22 persons aboard, had been sighted ten miles east of Florence, near the Pee Dee River. The report said the plane appeared to be "a complete wreck."

Army planes from Shaw Field and other bases at Florence, Pope Field and Laurinburg-Maxton had been searching for the plane since reported missing.

The plane, carrying 10 civilians, 9 military personnel and a crew of three, was on a flight from Miami to New York.

New York offices of E. A. L. said radio contact was lost around 2 A. M., after the liner had reported it was encountering bad weather and was attempting to make a landing at Florence near here.

The report received here said the wreckage was found in a dense swamp.

Shaw Field reported the liner was apparently flying about four miles off its radio beam when it crashed.

A crash crew was dispatched from the Florence air base shortly before noon.

The Florence base placed the scene of the crash at a point 15 miles northeast of Florence.

DEPORTATION AHEAD FOR BUNDIST KUH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—

Fritz Kuhn, once fuhrer of the German-American Bund, will be deported to his native Germany after 17 years in the United States.

Kuhn has been interned as a dangerous enemy alien since June 21, 1943, when he finished 43 months in Dannemora Prison for misusing Bund funds and falsifying another organization's books.

Attorney General Clark directed yesterday Kuhn be sent back to his native land.

9-year-old Boy Held For Murder of Girl

EBENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—

(AP)—Nine-year-old Lloyd James Edwards of nearby South Fork, Pa., was being held in Cambria County jail today awaiting a hearing on a charge of murder in the death of a three-year-old neighbor girl, Phyllis Jean Epperson, Thursday night.

State Police Sgt. Vincent F. Bunch said he filed an information charging the schoolboy with murder before Justice of the Peace Elizabeth Rowland of Ebensburg last night.

The little girl, whose father is a soldier in the Philippines, was found dead on an embankment along the rocky bed of the Little Conemaugh River. Her head had been crushed.

20,000 JOBLESS IN OHIO STRIKES

Factories in Cleveland and Akron Hardest Hit

(By the Associated Press)

The number of workers made idle throughout the nation because of labor disputes soared beyond the 100,000 mark today—for the first time since months before Japan's surrender.

Fluctuating between 30,000 and 50,000 during August, the strike total rose sharply to 75,000 near the month's end. New strikes brought the number idle to 104,000 today.

All operations at the B. F. Goodrich Company's six Akron plants ceased today as 15,000 CIO-United Rubber Workers remained away from their jobs in protest against what their leaders termed "chaotic" conditions at the concern.

Only a few office workers and maintenance men were on duty. Production at the plants had been below normal for four days because of a strike of 780 members of the Firemen's Association of America. The production workers decided at a union meeting last night to remain away from their jobs until the company made "work available to all the members, with the proper supervision."

Idleness of the Goodrich workers brought the number of Ohioans involved in work stoppages above the 20,000 mark.

A one-day walkout of 250 URWA curing-room workers at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. was halted last night as the employees agreed to resume production and arbitrate their grievances.

AFL-International Association of Machinists officials agreed to reduce a picket line of more than 2,000 workers yesterday in a move to prevent further violence at the strikebound Parker Appliance Co. of Cleveland.

Nearly 1,000 unionists from four other plants joined the strikers' line yesterday after a previous clash between mounted policemen (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Political Maneuvers Behind Probe of Pearl Harbor Disaster Disclosed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The

Pearl Harbor matter has developed into a semi-subtle political maneuver of the New Dealers to prevent exposure of Mr. Roosevelt's responsibility.

Their commentators and congressmen, since the reports, have daily raised the theme that it would be useless to rake those cooled coals further and sultry proud official names (rarely mentioning Mr. Roosevelt's). Why not let by-gones be by-gones and get on with reconversion or whatever it is we are doing? Among them, they say: "De mortuis nil nisi bonum," (say nothing but good of the dead) as if the worst of all blows to American arms was now a matter of etiquette.

Hence also, Mr. Truman did what he could for his old chief by blaming the public and congress for the disaster. As the whole departmental administration below Mr. Truman had blamed one another, this drew the blame over every one in the country except Mr. Roosevelt (as Mr. T. was then serving in Congress). All this, of course, represented genuine inner fear of what a full inquiry might do not only to the president but politically to the party.

Seeing this, the Republicans, started championing in Congress the cause of an investigation. They have insufficient strength (Please Turn to Page Five) state government, which is in the market for land for a new penitentiary, fair grounds and mental hospitals, today cast its eyes on the $8,000,000 Lockbourne Army Air Base.

The 1600-acre reservation on the outskirts of Columbus will be deactivated by September 30, the War Department has announced.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche designated a committee of three to inquire into possible uses to which the state might put the air base and the chance of acquiring it.

A white-legged U. S. cavalry band will lead General MacArthur's triumphal parade through three miles of Tokyo streets Saturday morning, Japanese time (late today, U. S. time).

MacArthur will enter the city at 11 A. M. (10 P. M. today, EWT) a Domei broadcast reported. Earlier today broadcasts had indicated a 6 A. M. arrival.

Jap Plot Revealed

Meanwhile, well-informed Japanese sources revealed today that fanatical young Japanese officers on Aug. 14 killed the commanding general of Emperor Hirohito's personal guards division and by forging his name sent troops to surround the palace in a vain effort to prevent the imperial surrender announcement from reaching the people.

The killing climaxed a fantastic attempt to keep Japan geared to war, these sources related. The finale to battle over surrender, between the emperor and certain militarist elements, involved a hot chase after the vital radio recording containing the emperor's historic capitulation rescript, they said.

The sources which gave this information said that the first surrender discussions among the militarists began in February—at the time of the great American carrier raids on Tokyo—and that the emperor began in March a fruitless effort to obtain advice on capitulation.

Russia Got First Hint
Before the surrender actually came Japan had hinted officially to Russia that she was willing to yield Manchuria and North China in return for continued Soviet neutrality, these sources added, but this failed.

The emperor's rescript of surrender was finally recorded on Aug. 14 in strictest secrecy and was scheduled to be broadcast to the people the next day.

The group of fanatical young army officers learned of it and a lieutenant colonel and a major hatched a plot to try to prevent its reaching the Tokyo radio.

All the while, the all-important recording was still at the Imperial Palace and was delivered to the radio station only a few moments before the broadcast at noon on Aug. 15.

The same sources which gave this account said that the emperor tug-of-war with the army for earlier had won a momentous control of the Suzuki cabinet during a meeting the night of Aug. 8 after Russia had declared war.

Taking his first direct action, the emperor was said to have demanded that the cabinet agree to his surrender proposal. The army clique simultaneously was demanding that the cabinet reject the emperor's suggestion. Representatives of the emperor and of the general staff sat in on the long cabinet meetings and reported frequently to their principals, who were not personally present.

Surrender in China
In Nanking, indications today were that the official Japanese surrender in China would take place there Sunday (Chinese time) and an American spokesman made it clear it will be a "100 percent Chinese show."

"The Americans have been ordered to stay in the background and let the Chinese run it," said Brig. Gen. H. L. Boatner of New Orleans, La., deputy commander of the Chinese-American combat command, who arrived here yesterday.

Boatner said the Americans would stand by and do only what the Chinese asked them to do during the surrender of Japanese troops in China, estimated at about 1,000,000 men.

Japan's Kwantung army in Manchuria was thoroughly smashed by the Russians, Brig. Gen. Charles C. Brake of Brockton, Mass., said on his arrival in Manila after being freed from a Mukden prison.

The American officer, who was General Wainwright's quartermaster on Bataan and Corregidor, said he wished all Japanese armies could have been as thoroughly beaten on the field as that in Manchuria.

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

I hope you farmers that have a start of Johnson grass on your farm will eradicate it without delay, and I also hope that the State Highway Department will do the same when the noxious grass starts to get a foothold along the highways, as it is doing in some places.

Johnson grass grows three to six feet in height, and spreads by a maze of rootlets and seed from the heavily laden heads. Once started, it is difficult to get a plow through it, or eradicate it, and in the nearby county of Ross, for instance, large tracts have been abandoned because it has literally been smothered by the heavy growth of Johnson grass.

Like the Canadian thistle, Johnson grass is one of the farmers' worst weed enemies, and where it is not dealt with promptly, it is sure to spread and choke out all other growth.

A little of it is found in southeastern Fayette County, and much of it in Ross County, but I have noticed a great deal of land has been overrun by the dreaded grass in parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and other southern states.

While he was home on a furlough recently after arriving in the U. S. from Italy where he had been with the 47th Bomber Group, of the 12th Air Force, Sgt. Forrest Eugene Cabbage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cabbage of this city, picked up a copy of "Look" magazine and was greatly surprised to see his picture, along with other members of his group, carried in the magazine. He immediately named nearly all of his buddies shown in the group.

Pictured on the same page also was a club room scene showing curtains that Sgt. Cabbage had painted. Incidentally his services were very much in demand as a painter in the 12th Air Force.

Sgt. Cabbage went through the African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns, and was in the Mediterranean theater of war for three years.

Recently he was sent to Seymour Johnson Field, N. C., where he will probably be discharged in the near future.

BARTENDER SLAYER ARRESTED IN EATON

EATON, O., Sept. 7.—(AP)—

Sheriff L. C. Galyean announced today the arrest of a man he identified as an escaped Tennessee convict, and a signed admission from him that he drove the car in which two slayers of Edgar Settle, 28, escaped after a cafe brawl near here last Sunday night.

Galyean said the man, registered as James Brock, about 40, a road laborer, was being held as a material witness. Settle, a bartender from Richmond, Ind., was knifed to death in a fracas at Buckeye Gardens, near the Ohio-Indiana state line.

24 ARE ELIGIBLE FOR INCREASE IN JOBLESS PAY

Few Already Receiving BUC Money, Others To Get Compensation Soon

With the retroactive unemployment compensation increase of $5 per week effective now, the 24 people here who receive the benefits will get approximately $15 each more than the $45 they have received since August 15, it was indicated at the USES office here Friday.

Ward C. Miller, area director, said two dozen people here have applied for unemployment benefits as contrasted with one person before the BUC pay increase. Most of the 24 are not now receiving any BUC pay because a minimum waiting period of two weeks is set after the individual files a claim. When they do start receiving their checks, they will receive $21 weekly. For those who already were receiving BUC benefits, the $5 weekly increase will be paid retroactively from the state office where all checks are mailed.

He said he believed so few people were receiving BUC benefits here because many of the workers laid off when the API closed August 20 lived out of town; because some people, particularly housewives, who had been employed there do not intend to work any longer and because many employees want to rest before taking another job.

To receive unemployment compensation, one must have earned at least $160 during 20 weeks employment in the past 15 months.

SUGAR BONUSES TO BE MAILED TO INDIVIDUALS

Five Pounds Extra for Cannery Who Got Nine Pounds

If the postman leaves you a five pound sugar stamp some day soon, it isn't a mistake. You're supposed to get one if you applied for canning sugar this summer and received nine pounds or less. If you didn't apply for canning sugar, there will be no bonus sugar for you—you are just out of luck now. No more applications for canning sugar can be made, either, rationing officials here said.

The nicest part about the bonus sugar is that there is no need for the individual to make an application for it—they will be mailed to people who received nine pounds or less of canning sugar this summer directly from the ration board. Names and addresses are on file there, it was explained.

Mailing of the bonus sugar stamps will start immediately and the clerks at the ration board will be busy sending them out from now on.

It was pointed out at the board that plenty of time was allowed for people to make applications for canning sugar and it was stressed that applications are closed now.

Then one day a high ranking officer announced, "This is it." The crews were assembled at midnight according to plan and the convoy started for the desert.

After hoisting the bomb to the top of a tower and making everything ready, he and those working with him went back nine miles to wait.

"Everybody was shaking like a leaf and everybody was praying, just like we did before going into combat in the Pacific," he told an interviewer at his home.

"Nobody, even the scientists, knew exactly what was going to happen. Those last 45 minutes were like 45 of the longest hours." Then it happened. The sergeant, wearing a welder's hood, turned to look in the general direction of the explosion. The concussion sent him spinning.

"It looked like the explosion was right on top of us and the light actually was as bright as the scientists reported, about 60 times brighter than the sun.

"We weren't allowed near the crater for about six days, although the scientists went in with special suits. The sand around the entire area was crystalized," Sgt. Todoran said.

having witnessed the Sept. 2 surrender ceremony aboard the U. S. S. Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

McCain, almost as bitter in his hatred of Japanese war lords as was his superior at sea, Admiral Halsey, declared:

"Japan's war lords are not half licked yet. I didn't like the look in their (signatories') eyes."

He had planned a short visit with wife here, then a trip to Washington for a new assignment.

Peppery and forward-looking, he was full of postwar plans.

"Give me enough fast carriers and let me run them and you can have the atom bomb," he told newspapermen in Honolulu.

McCain was graduated from the naval academy in 1906. Thirty years later, at 52, after having served on almost every type of ship from destroyer to battleship, he received his wings at Pensacola and plunged into naval air strategy.

In May, 1942, he became commander, aircraft, South Pacific. A few months later he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for having "contributed greatly to the occupation of the Guadalcanal-Tulagi area." Then he became deputy chief of naval operations, air, in Washington.

Late in the summer of 1944, McCain returned to the Pacific to study carrier force tactics first hand under Adm. Marc A. Mitscher. After a few weeks, he was given command of a carrier task group under Mitscher.

EXPLOSIVE ISSUES AND TRUMAN'S MESSAGE HEAT UP CONGRESS

document, subheaded to deal with 21 specific issues.

Typical GOP comment came from Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ):

"It's the old New Deal dressed up in new clothes."

Many Democrats had about the same view.

Liberals Happy

Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont) said he never had any fears that Mr. Truman would go conservative in the White House.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) said he expects to get his colleagues' reaction to the presidential proposals at a Democratic conference next week.

Mr. Truman dealt with about every problem that politicians will play a part when a new House and one third of the Senate is elected in 1946. He left them room, too, for some additional notes to his former colleagues.

He said these would deal with universal military training, the proposed merger of the armed forces, use and control of atomic energy, additional foreign lending power, a health program, Social Security expansion and educational aid.

The Democratic liberals liked his plug for the $25 for 28 weeks for the unemployed. His call for a permanent fair employment practice commission pleased them. They cheered his public works program. His endorsement of a so-called "full employment bill" buoyed them.

But southerners who represent the more conservative element found some comfort, too.

Sen. George said the country would not overlook "the fact that the president has taken long and conservative steps toward economy in government."

Sen. Taft's Reactions

Sen. Taft, who thought there was little in the message, also liked the part about "full employment." The Ohio senator said the president narrowed the deficit spending theory he contended had been put in the pending measure to meet the views of Secretary of Commerce Wallace.

The president said:

"A national reassertion of the right to work for every American citizen able and willing to work—a declaration of the ultimate duty of government to use its own resources if all other methods should fail to prevent prolonged unemployment—these will help to avert fear and establish full employment."

Charges of "politics" swirled today around an assured congressional investigation into Pearl Harbor.

The investigation became a certainty when the Senate unanimously passed a resolution yesterday calling for an inquiry by a ten-man committee of five senators and five representatives—three Democrats and two Republicans from each branch.

Republicans and Democrats alike got behind the resolution in the House, where it will come up Monday. The Republicans, however, are insisting on equal representation on the committee.

The party's 16-member House steering committee endorsed the resolution with an amendment to increase the membership of the investigatory body to twelve, three Democrats and three Republicans from each branch. They will offer the amendment Monday, but indications are it will be voted down.

"We feel that this is not a partisan question," said House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts. "It should be removed from the realm of politics."

Demands for a congressional investigation had come primarily from Republicans. It was somewhat of a surprise to them when Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) offered his resolution for a "further searching inquiry." Barkley added that he was acting "with the full knowledge and approval of the president of the United States."

Arrangements already have been made to accept surrender of Japanese in Dutch Timor, while arrangements for capitulation in Portuguese Timor will be made in cooperation with the Portuguese government, he told the House of Representatives.

Australian forces have been dispatched to Nauru and ocean islands as representatives of Admiral Nimitz, to accept surrender of the Japanese garrisons there. These islands are within the U. S. sphere of responsibility, Beasley explained.

WORLD TODAY

—By DEWITT MACKENZIE—

Quietly, but with that inevitability which characterizes the European politico-social upheaval, the expropriation and redistribution of the rolling acres of the landed gentry is proceeding in the eastern and central part of the continent.

With the comings and goings of that section of Europe more or less sub rosa, few details have been available. We know there has been extensive expropriation of the properties of the feudal barons of Poland. There are indications that similar changes are going forward in Hungary, the Balkans and East Prussia.

Now comes news that the tide has reached western Europe. This is in Saxony. Russian-occupied Germany, where large landed estates are being broken up and turned over to the small tillers of the soil. There seems no reason to believe that the program won't spread to other parts of Germany.

The development in Saxony is disclosed in a decree published in Berlin newspapers, breaking up the landed estates—one of the first great west European experiments in communist land reform. This decree is sweeping. It expropriates all agricultural wealth belonging to anyone who was actively associated with the Nazi party in any way, shape or manner. It's a net with a mesh so small that few fish will escape.

The fever of reform has spread from Saxony to Mecklenburg, Brandenburg and Thuringia. There German communists are arranging mass meetings at which farmers and small peasant are passing resolutions, condemning the junkers and other land barons as reactionaries. Thus the way is being paved for further possible expropriations.

The reform in Poland has been sweeping. The Polish Press Agency, which is the official medium of the provisional government of Poland, says that by the end of last April 7, 269,053 acres of land has been parceled out to 269,899 families. As a concrete illustration of what is happening, it is said that the 6,000 acre estate of Count Alfred Potocki has been distributed among 1,050 peasant families.

An important development in connection with this vast Polish land reform is the establishment of new agricultural schools. The news agency says that 329 are now in operation.

Without attempting to draw sweeping conclusions from these expropriations, it is an important commentary that much of the wealth of the Prussian war lords has come from great feudal estates which have been in the same families for generations. Thus it is obvious that some of the strongest roots of German militarism are being torn up in this manner.

Of course the mere ownership of many acres doesn't make a man a rascal. It's true, however, that in numerous parts of Europe there still exists a feudalism which at one and the same time has kept land from the peasants and has waxed fat from the sweat of farm laborers. In many instances these families of serfs have been attached to the same estates for generations, unable to break away and set up farming for themselves, even though untold thousands of acres were set aside by the barons for deer shooting and the like.

I've seen a small army of peasant girls digging with shovels on a big estate in Bulgaria, and have had the wealthy land-owners tell me with a laugh that he paid them only fifteen cents a day each, with a spot of food at noon. This sort of thing has been more or less typical of many parts of the Balkans and eastern Europe. There's been much of it in western Europe, for that matter, though not so medieval in form as one has seen in other sections.

HOUSING IN WCH TO BE EXPANDED IF NHA APPROVES

OK Expected for 100 Units From Washington, D. C., Headquarters

Washington C. H. may be one of the first small cities in Ohio to have building priorities swept aside for the construction of houses under the National Housing Administration.

All the preliminary steps have been taken—regional and state approval have been given, and the application for 100 family dwelling units now is in Washington, D. C. for an O.K. from H. H. Blanford, NHA administrator.

James M. Riffe, Jr., executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, has said he expected probably 25 or 30 houses could be built immediately after the approval of the project comes—and Riffe is confident that the green light is on its way. He said also that he thought building priorities would be eliminated by the first of the year, leaving a clear path for much-needed home construction in Washington C. H.

The approval of the housing program will open the way for the building of residential subdivisions already planned. Riffe said. He also pointed out it would help absorb unemployment here. The NHA program has so far been granted only to Cleveland, Dayton, Cincinnati and Columbus. Riffe said. He said he expected Washington C. H. to be among the first small cities in the state to benefit by the program.

RELIEF IS STABLE DESPITE JOB LOSS

Costs for August $8 More Than Last Year

If the loss of wartime jobs is going to affect relief costs here, it hasn't become apparent yet, because relief costs for August were just $8 more than for the same month in 1944.

For August, 1945, relief costs were computed at $1030.54; for August, 1944, they were $1022.54. It was reported at the relief office here.

Production cutbacks, of course, did not come until after the Japanese surrender. The API closed here the week-end of August 18. The real pressure for the relief department probably won't come immediately, it is believed. The office here is prepared for increases in the relief rolls, however.

Eagles to Meet Good Hoppers In League Game Here Sunday

The Eagles can put a lock on at least a tie for the Tri-County League championship by beating the Good Hope boys when they come here next Sunday afternoon in what promises to be the highlight of the baseball entertainment around the circuit.

But, if the past is any criterion of the future, the fur will fly at Sabina when Jeffersonville's team meets the Merchants at Recreation Park.

The Greenfielders will have a chance to keep in the running when they invade the tallenders' home lot at Milledgeville in the other loop game.

With only three games left on their schedule, the Washington C. H. entry would have to drop all of them and the Sabians would have to win all but one of their remaining games to change the outcome of the race as it now stacks up with teams entering the home stretch.

It now seems fairly certain that the Eagles and Sabina will hit the finish line in that order and the Jeffersonville entry should not have too much trouble taking the

BIG BLUE LION SQUAD NOW BEING BUILT INTO COORDINATED MACHINE

Warm weather has not been exactly conducive to energetic football practices, but the big squad of Blue Lions hopefuls has been at it for more than two weeks now and is beginning to resolve itself into definite form.

For the two-day preliminary drills before school started, Coach J. R. Brammer handled the unifying and milling mass of boys all by himself. Now his new assistant, Stephen Lewis, is here to lend a hand.

The early workouts, which were devoted largely to fundamentals, were held in the comparatively small space back of the field house at Gardner Park. With the start of this school week, the gates to the regular field were swung open and the sessions cut from two to one a day and activities began to take on a semblance of football.

The squad, one of the biggest and most determined ever out here has never had less than 54 on the roll and has been as high as 57, Brammer said—that made five full teams from which to build up a combination to carry the blue and white of WHS into the coming season's gridiron wars.

Indicative of the growing interest among high school boys here was Coach Brammer's disclosure that the squad would be even larger if the equipment were available. Whenever one boy gives up—and that has been seldom—there are two or three waiting to grab his uniform and shoes, he added.

School authorities, from the superintendent on down through the teachers and janitors, view this situation as wholesome and see in it a trend toward giving physical

-Spying- On Sports By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—To get the idea of Hank Borowy's importance in the Cubs' pennant drive, take a look at the relief pitching figures. In 128 games out to yesterday, the Cubs had called on 14 pitchers for 112 relief stints—some successful. Since Hank joined up July 29, they played 40 games and the starting pitchers were around on 26 occasions, including all of Borowy's nine starts.

After Monday's doubleheader in which Chicago's Andy Pafko hit a first-inning homer with the bases full, the versatile Red Smith of the baseball Cubs and football Giants was giving a "A thing like that takes a team a lift that lasts all day," he explained, "and the other team suffers a letdown."

Georgia's "Peri of great price," Al Peri, has been A.W.O.L. from the university since Monday and Wally Butts isn't counting on him to play this fall. A couple of "sleepers" on the Army football squad may be James Rawers, end, and Elwin "Ripper" Rowan, back, who never played college ball. They're listed as third stringers but Coach Earl Blaik frequently mentions Rawers and Bernie Moore counted on Rowan, an all-around high schooler, to become a regular at Louisiana State until the kid switched to West Point.

Newcomers In Big Ten Spotlight

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Ohio State and Michigan, two of the pre-season favorites, sought key replacements today as the first week of Big Ten football practice tapered off.

The championship Buckeyes had to find a successor to veteran fullback Ollie Cline, ticketed for military service, while the Wolverines, 1944 runners-up, hunted a replacement for Ed Bahlow, veteran end, lost for the season because of a broken ankle.

Coach Carroll Widdoes tested veteran Matt Brown and freshman Check Gandee and Bill O'Dell at Cline's position, which probably will not have to be filled until after the Buckeye opener with Missouri on Sept. 29.

Bahlow, who had experience at Wisconsin and central Michigan college, was being groomed for right end by Coach Fritz Crisler, who now must depend upon three freshmen at the position. The Wolverines make the earliest conference get-away as they open against Great Lakes at Ann Arbor a week from tomorrow.

Meanwhile, three other camps welcomed experienced newcomers. Minnesota's Bernie Bjerman, long fretting over his tackle situation, warmly greeted Pat Moran, 230-pounder, who was a regular tackle at the University of Maryland last season.

At Wisconsin, Rex John, 212-pound tackle from the 1938 squad, and Vern Klinking, 190-pound guard from the 1942 freshman team, reported to Coach Harry Stuhldreher.

Large kangaroos in Australia have been timed at about 40 miles an hour.

LITTLE SERIES WILL BE HELD

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The American Association and the International League champions will battle in the little world series again this year.

George M. Trautman, president of the association, said yesterday the event definitely would be held. There had been doubt of the series' status.

The Shaugnessy playoffs in the association which began Tuesday, will pit in a four-out-of-seven series the team finished first in the regular season against the team finishing third. The second place club will be matched against the fourth-place outfit.

Government purchasing tended to restrict selling in wheat and most of the liquidation apparently was hedging. Nearby rye deliveries were up in early trade on short-covering, but prices later fell with the distant contracts.

Bowling All Set For Full Season

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Bowling, which set a pattern for co-operation in wartime, will be among the pastimes in the peacetime sports comeback.

This was assured yesterday when the Office of Defense Transportation gave bowling permission to "go ahead" with plans for holding its big events next spring.

These include the American Bowling Congress, National Duplein Meet and Women's International Tournament. The ABC was last held in 1940.

SPEEDER SAYS 'TRAP' OPERATED IN THIS CITY

Charge Is Promptly Refuted
By Judge R. H. Sites
In Facts Given

On August 15 Frank B. McKelvey, Olmstead Falls, O., was taken into custody by the police here who charged that he was speeding on Court Street and Columbus Avenue, doing 50 miles or more part of the time, and he posted a bond of $5 which he forfeited.

Police said it was necessary to drive 60 miles an hour to overtake McKelvey, at the story farm nearly a mile from the point where he was first noticed exceeding the speed limit.

McKelvey was given a receipt for his $5 bond and made no unusual complaint about being picked up by police.

However, later he wrote the Cleveland Auto Club, claiming he was picked up in a "speed trap" here while traveling 30 miles an hour, and that he had demanded a receipt which was given reluctantly.

The letter and receipt were forwarded to the Fayette County Auto Club for inquiry, and in response to a letter from Secy. Howard Allen, Judge R. H. Sites, stating that the police and court have been very lenient with speeders, and that there is no hint of a speed trap here, and has not been.

The reply of Judge Sites will be forwarded to the Cleveland Auto Club and is expected to end the complaint made by McKelvey.

Captain Jess Ellis, who issued the receipt, said Friday that a charge of reckless operation should have been placed against McKelvey, inasmuch as he was darting in and out of the line of traffic at excessive speed within the city. He also said he was preparing to write the receipt for the $5 when McKelvey asked for it, and that he furnished it at once without question.

MRS. FIERCIE HODGE SUMMONED FRIDAY
Death Follows an Operation Several Weeks Ago

Mrs. Fiercie Hodge, 58, wife of Eber Hodge, 424 Broadway, died Friday at 3:10 A. M. at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, where she had been a patient for six days.

Mrs. Hodge had been in ill health the past six months and underwent a major operation several weeks ago.

She had lived in and near Washington C. H. her entire life, and was a member of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Florence Andrews, this city; three grandchildren; four brothers and a sister; Ashell Judy, this city; Jess Judy, Frankfort; Manford Judy, Springfield; Carey Judy, North Carolina; and Mrs. George Glaze, of Galena.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10:30 A. M. at the Klever Funeral Home, and burial will be made in the family lot in the Washington C. H. cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Saturday.

DOG SITUATION NOT IMPROVED

Several Dogs Are Killed and Many Picked Up

Apparently the dog situation in the city and Union township has not improved much, except two or three more dogs have been killed, and a number picked up by the dog warden and assistant.

Police report numerous complaints received of dogs permitted to run at large, and in several instances these dogs have been rounded up and placed in the pound for three days before being disposed of.

Many persons have placed their dogs on leash upon their own properties, but do not take into consideration that the animals may be bitten by rabid dogs.

Marjorie Hunter, a small girl residing on Gregg Street, was bitten by a dog Thursday, and the animal was penned up and is being watched. The child was taken to a physician and may be given the Pasteur treatment.

Meanwhile police are instructed to look after all dogs found on the streets, and to kill them if necessary.

More Debts Wiped Off Than Assumed in August

Fayette Countians paid off $39,101.21 more in mortgages than they assumed in August, a summary of the month's activities in Recorder Frank E. Whiteside's office showed today.

The "paid off" figure for 20 mortgages on lots was $31,061 while farms totalling 1,325.91 acres threw off a total debt of $68,283.21 during the month. Mortgages assumed on 26 lots totalled $48,415 while 888.26 acres of land were mortgaged to the tune of $54,050.

Altogether 70 deeds, 39 mortgages, 27 soldier's discharges, one power of attorney, one lease, six recorded releases, six cemetery deeds, six affidavits of transfer, 12 rights of way and five certificates of transfers were recorded last month. They brought a total of $218.65 in recording fees.

WATER PRESSURE DOWN AS SHOWN BY GAUGE

The gauge at the Fire Department, where the water pressure is recorded on a daily chart, shows the pressure somewhat lower than usual this week, probably due to drawing on the deep wells for supply.

The normal pressure is around 50, but at one time this week it dropped to 40 pounds. Most of the time it runs from 45 to 50 pounds, however.
